BAY HIT-RUN HUNT ON HILL MURDER THOUGHT TO BE TWO MONTHS OLD

The CORE

John J. Cummings Thorton, and 400 of his flock are reported, to have been drowned in the Pomogawasset river, and reports of other heavy losses continue to come from New England as a result of the heavy rains.

Following a conference with President Coolidge, Representative Phil Swing of California, stated that $1,000,000 is being used to defeat the Boulder Dam development legislation by lobbyists.

President Coolidge yesterday ordered a fleet of airplanes sent to find the extent of damage wrought in the Vermont hills, by the floods.

Secretary of State Kellogg yesterday stated that a satisfactory solution of the prospective tariff war between France and the United States, would soon be reached.

Walter Hagen beat Joe Turnesa, one up, in the finals of the professional golfers association tournament, at the Cedar Crest Country club in Dallas yesterday.

Ronald Amundsen, hero of Arctic explorations, arrived in Oslo, on the liner Bergen yesterday. Amundsen fled New York in the midst of a series of engagements. He refused any answer when asked if he were to be married soon.

Earl Sande, famous jockey, was suspended yesterday by the Maryland state racing commission. He cannot ride in any race in the country, that has a working agreement with the United States jockey club.

Late reports announced yesterday that snow and zero temperature were adding to the misery of homeless thousands huddled on housetops in the flood section of New England.

Johnstown flood were one of the residents of Beckett, a village in Western Massachusetts yesterday, raced five miles to warn fellow townsmen of an approaching wall released when a huge dam burst.

Hundreds of residents of Rutland, Vermont, are piling stones against the Chittenden dam above the city. If the dam bursts, enough water would be released to flood half Western Massachusetts. Rutland is completely cut off from the outside world.

A Red Cross relief unit at Manchester, N. H., was making preparations last night to leave in boats to take food and clothing to the flood districts.

Gen. Arnolfo Gomez, former candidate for president, and a rebel leader, was executed by federal troops yesterday in Mexico City. Gomez and four officers and several of his troops were cornered at Tecejo, after a chase that continued night and day since October 2.

WISE BUYING OF FUEL AND FUEL

Buying right is as important as to the business man as selling at a profit. In fact he cannot sell at a profit if he does not buy to advantage.

Buying right is equally important to the family. The time to buy fuel, for instance, is when prices are lowest. The time to buy fuel during warm weather, because others usually wait until it is cold before they order their fuel and when there is little or no market for a commodity the price declines. The place to buy fuel and fuel is listed in the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

3 TO 3 TIE ENDS SAINTS, IDAHO GRIDIRON FIGHT

Bears Easily Victors; Cards Face Powerful Team in Huskies

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Berkeley, Nov. 5.—California easily defeated Montana 33 to 13 here today, in one of the two coast conference games played this week. Montana the weak sister of the conference, threw a scare into the Bears by getting a 13 to 12 lead in the third quarter. However, Benny Lom, Ralph Dougherty, and Stan Barr put over touchdowns in the final period. California, except for one last quarter dash down the field by "Brick" Marcus and "Red" Gill for the last touchdown, failed to show much of the form which has heartened their supporters in early season games. Washington, which lost to Stanford 13 to 7 today, comes south next week to play the Bears.

CARDINALS GET BREAKS
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5.—Stanford's "Big Red Team" proved too much for Washington's "Purple Tornado" here this afternoon. Pop Warner's eleven defeating Enoch Bagshaw's team 13 to 7.

Two quick plays, a kick blocked by Spud Harder of Stanford and recovered by the same man, in the fourth period, and a short pass, Hyland to Preston, that he carried 34 yards to the goal in the second period won the game for the Cardinals.

HUSKIES POWERFUL
Washington scored in the first of the third period with a power attack that sent Carroll over the goal line. Stanford was out powered in a great degree by the Huskies who gained yards and yards, but the Cardinals proved the smarter players in the emergency.

Stanford's second touchdown came in the final period after the Reels had advanced to and had been held at the Huskies' 3 yard line. Tesreau kicked from behind his own goal, Harder broke through, blocked the punt, and recovered for the winning touchdown.

In the first period Stanford was forced to yield to the Washington attack, once stopping the Huskies forces only two yards short of the goal line. But they held.

LONG ON KICKS

Stanford through lone run backs or kicks by Hyland and one unusually long punt by Hoffman, crept out of their own territory early in the second period. A pass from Hyland to Harder made Stanford's only first down of the first half. The same sort of pass, made by tricky Dick when he rushed so badly that men in the press box thought Hyland was throwing merely to avoid being smeared, brought the touchdown.

Preston caught it on the line of scrimmage and made the goal line with a beautiful run between perfect interference.

ST. MARY'S-IDAHO TIE
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—St. Mary's and Idaho battled bitterly here this afternoon to a 3 to 3 tie. It was a punting and forward passing duel for the greater part of the game. St. Mary's had the advantage in the earlier periods but lacked scoring power except for a field goal in the second period.

Idaho fighting gamely added three points by the aerial route in the last period.

Discovery Of Body Credited To Children

MARTINEZ, Nov. 5.—That the Tapscott hill murder was committed over two months ago was learned yesterday after a day of intensive investigation by sheriff's deputies who found that children playing in the hills found the bones of the murdered man over eight weeks ago.

The children reported the discovery to their parents in El Cerrito, the officers learned, but the latter thought nothing of the report, believing that the children had stumbled onto some bones of an animal. In view of these circumstances the establishing of the identity of the murdered man will be even more difficult on account of the age of the crime.

E. O. Heinrich, Berkeley criminologist, who seeks to solve crimes with his microscope, is at work on the bones and the small fragments of clothing found where the body had been deposited and later consumed with either a strong acid or intense fire, or both. The sheriff's office admitted today that further investigation must necessarily wait on the presenting of at least a partial report by Heinrich.

Oakland Garbage Contract Cause Of Legal Row

A bitter legal battle in Oakland is faced by the Contra Costa Hog company over its contracts to collect wet garbage from restaurants, hotels and hospitals. The company is operated by William Mayer, his brother, E. P. Mayer and the latter's son, A. L. Mayer, Richmond. They have a contract with the City of Oakland by which they guarantee not less than $2,000 per month to that city.

Restaurant association members of Oakland declare that the garbage is being collected as before the garbage contract to the hog company went into effect two weeks ago. Auditor Harry Williams of Oakland has refused to sign the contract with the Contra Costa Hog company declaring that the farming out of municipal revenues is a franchise and should have been done after competitive bidding. The hog company is located on San Pablo highway east of Richmond.

Woman Hurt When Car Is Hit By Street Car

Mrs. Fred Carlson, of 1719 Grayson street, Berkeley, narrowly escaped death last night in El Cerrito, when a car in which she and her husband were driving collided with a machine operated by Henry Thomas of that city, and was then struck by a Key System street car and carried for 50 feet.

The accident is reported to have occurred when Thomas swerved to avoid a truck on San Pablo avenue. Carlson is said to have attempted to avoid the Thomas car, but was struck, the impact throwing the machine on to the northbound tracks of the street car. Unable to stop in time, presumably on account of the wet tracks due to the rain, the street car struck the Carlson automobile amidships and wrecked it completely.

Mrs. Carlson was badly cut about the face and hands by flying glass from the windshield.

CHLORO TAKEN BY ADDICT TO LESSEN PAINS

Man Declares He Once Was Well-Known Ball Player

Old and broken at the age of 43 and suffering severe pain from hardening of the arteries, Grover Donovan who claims to be a former Oakland coast league and St. Louis major league ball player, was removed to the county hospital in a Wilson and Kratzer ambulance yesterday afternoon after taking an overdose of chloroform to ease his pain.

He was first picked up by local police Thursday and taken to the Cottage hospital for treatment. He was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning.

IS OVERCOME
A short time later, police received a call from a restaurant on Macdonald avenue and First street where the man was believed to have taken dope. Donovan was found staggering through the door when the officers arrived.

Donovan was given emergency treatment at the Abbott Emergency hospital and later removed to the city jail. He is said to have placed more than an ounce of chloroform on a handkerchief and held it to his nose "to clear his mind." Due to his weakened condition he was overcome.

ONCE BALL PLAYER

Owing to his condition little hope is expressed for his recovery. During conscious moments at the police station yesterday, Donovan told of his baseball days and declared that his home was in Valley Falls, Kansas. He said he was on his way to visit friends in Vallejo.

SPAN HIGHWAY IS COMPLETED

VALLEJO, Nov. 5.—The 2800 feet of highway between Vallejo and the Carquinez bridge which was under repair last week has been completely made over and the work is finished, according to announcements by the American Toll-Bridge Company today. The detour made necessary last week has been replaced with this fine new pavement. This is the last with the exception of a few hundred feet of the stretch of highway between the bridge head and the town limits of Vallejo that has been repaved since the opening of the world's largest highway bridge last May.

Traffic to points in Northern and Central California via the Carquinez bridge continues heavy. Announcement that Lake county residents were keeping open this winter has given impetus to the week-end travel, according to George J. Calder, general manager of the Carquinez and Antioch bridges.

Failure To Provide Charged By Woman

MARTINEZ, Nov. 5.—Charging failure to provide, Mrs. Hazel James of Richmond today filed suit for divorce here against Bert James, whom she married in 1922. A separation occurred last January. There are no children. The suit was filed through Attorney C. D. Horner.

For the first time in years the state of Vera Cruz is reported to be free of bandits.

Scope Of C.C. Chambers Will Be Broadened

Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa county, instead of continuing its limited activities due to its small membership, will become a representative county-wide booster organization with extensive membership in every section of Contra Costa county, if the plan outlined at a meeting at the Mt. Diablo Country Club is approved and adopted at the next meeting to be held in Martinez on December 9.

SCOPE BROADENED
At present the Associated Chambers' membership consists only of the president and secretary of the local chambers of commerce. Under the new plan every active officer and member of every chamber of commerce, welfare club, business men's association, woman's club, civic organization or improvement association will be eligible for membership and his or her membership will be earnestly solicited.

DRAFT PLANS
At the meeting attended by thirty executives of the county's local chambers, a committee was named to draft a new constitution for the enlarged association and to report at the Martinez meeting after conferring with all local organizations throughout the county. The committee consists of P. M. Sanford, Richmond, chairman; M. L. Jones, Martinez; W. E. Maury, Walnut Creek; E. C. Wiester, Danville; T. W. Hutchinson, Pittsburg, and George E. Murray, Pinole.

Headlight Drive To Open Monday

Police chiefs and their representatives from the cities of Oakland, Alameda, Piedmont, Richmond, San Leandro and El Cerrito worked out details for the East Bay Safety Council's headlight drive at a meeting yesterday in Oakland.

The campaign will have the official sanction of all local police officials and the State Motor Vehicle Department and will be carried on simultaneously in cities from San Leandro to Richmond.

All drivers found with lights that violate the law will be ordered to have them adjusted and will be given a printed slip showing the location of all the official headlight testing stations, according to Chief of Police Dan Cox.

MUST FILE O. K.'S

These latter will be provided with stickers from the safety council and when the lights have been repaired a sticker will be affixed to the windshield and the driver will be given a written certificate. The latter must be mailed to the traffic bureau within 48 hours to avoid a citation being issued that will hale the driver into court.

At yesterday's meeting, at which final plans were made, were Chief of Police Fred Heere of Piedmont, Lieutenant Charles Hemphill of Oakland; H. A. Brooks, Alameda; L. M. Eaton, Richmond; F. H. Wright, El Cerrito, and L. W. Bacon, San Leandro.

BORLANDS PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. Borland of 460 Dimm avenue are the parents of a son, born at the Richmond Maternity hospital yesterday. Mother and son are doing nicely.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph. Scasale of 621 Thirteenth street are the parents of a son, born November 3, according to a birth certificate filed yesterday with the city health department.

TRIO THOUGHT TO HAVE DIED IN COLLISION

Distress Cries Heard By Man On Night Of Triple Tragedy

MARTINEZ, Nov. 5.—Contra Costa officers today began an investigation to determine whether August Re, Antonio Belleci and Francis Nemanich, Crockett residents, who were drowned in Suisun Bay while on a duck hunting trip were the victims of a maritime hit and run driver.

REPORT CRASH

The investigation was launched after John Chapin, keeper of a gun club on Mallard Slough, reported to Chief of Police Charles Scudero of Pittsburg, that on October 12, 11 night the hunting party left Pittsburg in the launch San Juan. He was aroused by cries of distress. Chapin told Scudero that in the distance he could observe what appeared to be two barges and a launch. Men on the barges were observed to be running and waving lanterns. The distance of the barges and launch was too great for Chapin to observe in the darkness the cause of the disturbance.

TO LAUNCH SEARCH
Chapin was unaware of the accident that befell the Crockett hunting party, but on learning the facts reported to Scudero, The Pittsburg chief said he intended to communicate with District Attorney A. B. Tinning and Sheriff R. R. Veale and institute a search to discover, if possible, if any barges on the bay bear evidence of having been in a collision.

River men believe that the party's launch was either struck by a boat or struck a snag and sank.

James Murphy Is Called By Death

James P. Murphy, 44, El Cerrito insurance man, passed away at the Weimer sanitarium yesterday morning after a protracted illness. He had been a patient of the sanitarium the past six weeks.

Funeral services will be held in St. John's church in El Cerrito Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery under the direction of Bert Curry.

Murphy had been a resident of this vicinity the past 14 years and was active in political and social affairs of El Cerrito. He was a native of Ireland. Deceased was a member of Burke council, Young Men's Institute and Berkeley Council Knights of Columbus.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Catherine Murphy, two sons, James T. Murphy and Francis Murphy all of El Cerrito; and three brothers, Martin Murphy, El Cerrito, John Murphy of Vallejo, and Edward Murphy, of Oakland.

Special Address At 1st Presbyterian

"Who Is An American?" will be the subject of Miss Nellie Douglass, who will speak at the evening service of the First Presbyterian church today. Miss Douglass was connected with the Allison-James school in New Mexico for five years, and worked with people of that section. Her talk will cover the work now being done by the church there.

A service for fathers and sons will take place tomorrow evening in observance of "Father and Son" day.

May "Take The Air"

MAGAZINE BROADCASTING by Mrs. Dorothy Caruso of the intimate details of her marriage with Enrico Caruso, famous tenor, at the same time that her engagement to Alexander P. Moore, former ambassador and newspaper publisher, is announced, has killed Park Benjamin, her brother, who caustically suggests that Moore get even by writing the story of his life with the late Lillian Russell, his first wife, with whom he is shown above.

Richmond Organizations Answer Red Cross Call

Homer W. Patterson, president of Richmond chapter, Red Cross, and George Christopher yesterday secured contributing memberships in the Red Cross roll call for 1928. Of all contributing memberships of $5 each, $4.50 is retained by the local chapter, and only 50 cents is forwarded to the national fund. Of the dollar memberships, 50 cents is kept by the Richmond chapter, and 50 cents forwarded to national headquarters. Also from the $10 and $25 memberships, only 50 cents is sent to headquarters at Washington to finance the national and international program of the Red Cross, the remainder being added to the treasury of the local chapter for home work. The Red Cross is entirely dependent upon the annual dues for money with which to carry on its extensive program.

Dollar memberships announced yesterday were: M. H. Williams, Guy Treaster, James B. Maddigan, Mrs. Annie L. Pickard and the Central Labor Council of Contra Costa county. Among the various organizations that have already responded are the Certificates, with C. E. Parker, in charge of memberships; San Pablo Milk Producers, Berkeley Smith in charge; City Hall, Miss Higgins and Mechanics Bank, George Thorton.

The Church Fellowship and the Presbyterian Ladies Aid have already secured their supplies and many other organizations are showing their interest in the annual roll call.

The national Red Cross has set a goal of five million members for 1928, and of this quota, Richmond has been asked to secure three thousand members. To itemize a few outstanding reasons, while the Red Cross is the greatest, most far-reaching organization in the world today. Aid was given to nearly a million victims of disasters in the United States and other countries last year.

The "Greatest Mother" to the lonely during the World War, the Red Cross still gives aid and comfort to an army of 73,000 disabled ex-service men and their families.

Sergeant's "Eloquence" Wins Richmond Realtor To Cause

The name of this prominent citizen is withheld, but it would not have been had the story turned out differently. At Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue H. A. Messenger was busily engaged in conversation with a prominent realtor. The actions of the two looked suspicious as though the realtor was pleading with the officer to keep from going to the local dungeon.

SCANDAL FEARED
Then the realtor plunged his hands into his pockets and extracted money from them. And Sergeant Messenger accepted the money.

"Ha, ha! It gifts skandal," prompted a news-sense. Yeah, but it wasn't. Sergeant Messenger as quick as a process server, showed a little card in the realtor's hands, drew his revolver from his hip and dangled a pair of handcuffs.

The card informed one and all that the annual Police Ball would take place on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday November 23, at East Shore park for the benefit of the relief fund of the Richmond police department and that Dennis Shaw's orchestra of ten pieces would furnish the music.

LADIES COMPLIMENTARY
Down at the light hand corner of the card was additional information something about Gentlemen so much and ladies complimentary. And that was why the realtor was pleading with Sergeant Messenger. But . . . Sergeant Messenger won.

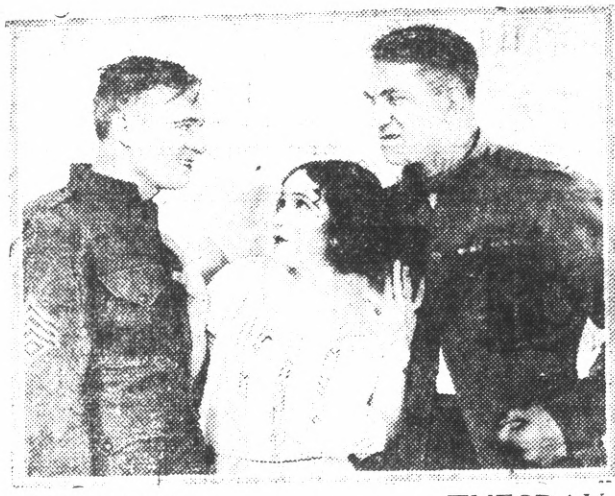

Oh well . . . it goes to a good cause. This is the one occasion that citizens have the opportunity of expressing appreciation for the work of the police department. The tickets have been placed in the hands of all members of (Continued on Page 8.)

"WHAT PRICE GLORY" TO BE AT CALIFORNIA

New York rocked with laughter for more than a season at the comedy scenes in "What Price Glory," the William Fox screen version of the celebrated stage success by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson, which will open a two days' engagement at the California Theatre starting tomorrow.

The critics of the metropolitan dailies were unanimous in their commendation of this supreme motion picture achievement.

In making the film version of "What Price Glory," the technical staff of Fox Films set off 125 tons of dynamite and T. N. T., resulting in a bombardment of the battle scenes. Due to elaborate precautions there were no casualties, although army officials have pronounced the front lines scenes to be the most realistic ever photographed.

Warner Oland Departs From Villain Roles

Warner Oland, long recognized as one of the greatest character actors of the screen, has usually been cast as the villain of the piece. In "Don Juan," with John Barrymore, he played the part of the evil brother of Lucrezia Borgia. In "A Million Bids," with Dolores Costello, he was cast as the rich man who bargained and finally paid a million to the mother of the girl he married.

But no one has known the possibilities for upturns but tend to be heart-warming comedy possessed by Warner Oland, until he has been cast as W. Bradberry, in the picture of Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "What Happened to Father." W. Bradberry, henpecked, meek, harboring a secret hobby, which is his final undoing, is a characterization that stands alone. It is inimitable in itself, and suggests the splendid things in store for the motion picture public from the versatile genius of Warner Oland.

"What Happened to Father," with Warner Oland, a Warner Bros. production, directed by John G. Adolfi, comes to the Richmond Theatre today.

Other features on the same program include "Peaceful Oscar," a Lloyd Hamilton comedy; and a Grandland Rice "Sportlight."

FARCE SCREAM AT CALIFORNIA

Always on the look out for something to tickle the palate of patrons the management of the California Theatre will present today in place of the five act variety program "The Jack Romig-Lou Davis Musical Comedy Company" in a scorchingly funny farce skit entitled "What Hennessey Brought Home."

This combination of fourteen capable artists has been appearing successfully in the larger cities of California for the past twelve months with unabated success and their initial appearance in Richmond should be hailed with delight by lovers of pep and entertaining shows.

The principals of the company include Jack Romig, as the leading comedian; Lou Davis, juvenile; Ruth Williams, a dainty leading lady; Minerva Uekra, in a clever character role; Valerie Noyes, a petite soubrette; and William Connors and Harry Bowen in light character comedy roles. These principals are backed up by a wonderfully schooled chorus of six dainty misses all directed by a talented music master who wields the baton in the orchestra.

Song and dance interpolations help along the act and some pretty costumes are worn by the girls throughout the seventy minutes of fast and furious fun. Patrons can look forward to an hilarious time when they find out "What Hennessey Brought Home" at the California Theatre today.

FIGHT OPENED TO REPEAL EXCISE TAX ON AUTOS

Strenuous Opposition Directed At Proposal To Keep War Measure

By ARTHUR HACHTEN
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—With a strong protest against Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's recommendation that the federal excise tax on automobiles be retained, the National Automobile Dealers Association today issued an appeal to congress to repeal this war-time levy.

HELD DISCRIMINATION

Secretary Mellon's proposal to retain it as a permanent peace-time tax on the ground that automobile users should help pay for federal aided highway construction, was called "rank discrimination."

"The automobile dealers do not dare to let Secretary Mellon's recommendations go unchallenged. Silence will mean that this industry forever agrees to have fastened to it a discriminatory levy, whose dangers are beyond comprehension," said the association, adding:

WAR WAR MEASURE

"In the stormy days of 1917 we did not question the advisability of this tax, but consented to the principle as a patriotic duty to help win the war."

"A war time sacrifice is now to become a peace time exaction. A gift on the altar of freedom is to be collected perpetually on the ground of expediency."

VEHEMENT PROTEST

"Fifty thousand motor vehicle dealers in the United States deny Secretary Mellon's right to dispose thus summarily of their destiny or the property of their 20,000,000 motor car customers."

The tax amounts to 3 per cent of the factory price of automobiles. It netted the treasury $66,437,881 in 1927. Automobile dealers bill the tax separately to car purchasers and promise to lop the tax off the price of the car should congress repeal it.

OPEN FIGHT TOMORROW

The automotive industry will open its fight for repeal before the house ways and means committee next Monday, when National Automobile Dealers' and Users' Associations will be represented. Corporations had their day before the Ways and Means committee today, spokesmen for the railroads and other industries demanding that the levy of 13 1/2 per cent on corporation incomes be slashed on the ground that corporations long have been denied a slice of the treasury surplus "melon."

FAVOR REDUCTION

The committee favors a reduction, a pool indicated. The fight centers on the amount. Recommendations of Secretary Mellon that the rate be cut to 12 per cent, lopping off $135,000,000 of the corporations' tax mill, were said to be inadequate by the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, National Wholesale Druggists' Association, National Clear Leaf Tobacco Association and others.

SUGGESTS 10 PER CENT CUT

Alfred P. Thom, general counsel of the Association of Railway executives, and C. S. Duncan, economist for that organization, suggested a rate of 10 per cent "if possible."

Duncan told the committee that the class one railroads in 1926 paid $109,817,494 in taxes to the Federal Government, an increase of 2.122 per cent over 1911. These roads paid to the Federal and State and local governments $358,922,000 in 1926, he said.

Auto Plants Reduce Orders For Tires

AKRON, Oct. 29. — Following record-breaking sales and production in the first eight months of the year, practically all the tire manufacturing plants have been curtailing operations during September until they are now running about 85 per cent of capacity. A letup from the rapid pace set by the industry was expected, and is regarded as nothing more than seasonal.

Retail tire sales were stimulated by the warm weather earlier in the month, but have since slowed up. Shipments to automobile manufacturers have not been nearly as heavy as they were last month.

GLARE HAS NO PART IN BUICK LIGHT SYSTEM

Motorism is now entering the season of more headlight use, when glare makes its damaging effects most seriously felt, and the motor car owner who is interested in making his own path and that of his fellow driver easier and safer will give a thought to the condition of the lights on his car, says C. C. Kratzer, local Buick dealer for Richmond.

The instrument board and lighting system of Buick for 1928 is designed to give the maximum in night driving comfort and offers safety to the driver and to approaching vehicles as well. Speedometer, oil gauge, ammeter, temperature indicator and gasoline gauge are lighted by diffused rays which originate in a light behind the dash. This prevents glare and makes possible clearer vision, points out Kratzer.

Controllable beam headlights which retain their full strength at all times but prohibit blinding rays in the eyes of approaching motorists, are standard equipment on all Buick models. The control lever is mounted on the steering post and can be operated by the driver without removing his eyes from the roadway.

Fall brings into service lights that may have seen relatively little use during the summer, when days were long and the result is the creation of a traffic hazard that has long been regarded as one of the most serious. In many sections of the country at this time of the year campaigns against faulty light equipment are being conducted in an effort to reduce the dangers and increase the safety of night travel.

The electrical system should be tested and defective wiring and globes replaced. Spare bulbs should be in the tool box of every automobile to replace those burned out. In California a motorist who is stopped by a state Motor Vehicle Inspector because of a faulty headlight or tail-light is permitted to proceed if he has a reserve bulb and substitutes it for the old one. Failure to have an extra lamp is considered an indication of unwillingness to comply with the law.

Headlamp and other lighting equipment on automobiles today has been greatly improved, better than ever before, but the best of it, subjected to driving over rough roads, will get out of focus and proper adjustments. The never-ending headlight problem will be solved only when each car owner takes it upon himself to have his own lights adjusted, not once, but at regular intervals, just as he has the crankcase of his car drained frequently.

Nation's Road Plans Call For Improvements

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The highway engineers to complete the highway leading off from nearly every bend in the road is not likely to come true for many, many years, say the road experts, who state that after a certain point is reached it is better to increase the capacity of existing highways than to lay down new ones.

It is the present aim of the highway engineers to complete the construction of approximately 750,000 miles of surfaced roads and to direct their efforts chiefly toward the traffic-carrying capacity of roads in existence. "Highway construction is not a question of simply building more hard surfaced roads," declares an official of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, "but rather a question of having enough roads to take care of the volume of traffic which passes over them. At present there are slightly more than 2,000,000 miles of roads of all kinds in the United States, excluding city streets, and no one will dispute the fact that for the present this number is sufficient for our needs."

"As to surfaced roads, ten years ago we needed more highways than we have now. The popularity of the motor vehicle grew so rapidly and touring gained such general favor that the demand for surfaced roads soon exceeded the supply. Since then building has been going along steadily in an effort to catch up with the need. When the present goal has been reached the highway builders will be able to handle more traffic. Whether there are 20,000,000 motor cars distributed throughout the country, as there were in 1921, or 22,000,000, as there are now, for cars, as at present, the heavy load of the traffic will be going to the same places. It is pointed out, so that the chief object is to provide good roads leading to those places where the traffic goes. The need, therefore, does not fall upon the construction of new roads, but making the present roads and those that are planned capable of handling this great density of traffic, it is explained."

Four present highway programs are not based upon the actual need, but upon the economic possibility of obtaining the necessary men, money and materials for the work without incurring other necessary activities, both public and private. A bureau expert explains, "In some states the tendency has been to build too much highway mileage at the expense of schools, courts and other public undertakings. Thus policy is a direct injury to the progress of the commonwealth."

OAK - PONTIAC CAR ECONOMY IS BIG FACTOR

A remarkable cross-section of automotive operating costs throughout America is revealed in the motor travel expense of 200 field representatives of the Oakland Motor Car company who drove 3,466,232 miles during the company's recently completed fiscal year at an average cost of $6398 per mile, according to George Olsen, local Oakland Pontiac dealer.

Since the Oakland and Pontiac Sixes which the field representatives use in their travels are factory-owned cars covered by blanket insurance, the factors of depreciation and insurance do not appear in the costs compiled by the company's statistical department. The average figure of $6398 per mile represents only the actual cost of maintaining and operating the cars. Of the 200 cars used, 120 were Pontiac Sixes and 70 were Oakland.

Here is the cost per mile "broken down" into its various components:

Gasoline $.0150
Maintenance labor $.0072
Storage and parking $.0069
Washing $.0036
Oil $.0033
Paris $.0028
Tires and tire repairs $.0010

TOTALS $.0298
The field representatives, driving a distance equal to more than 124 times around the world over all types of American roads and through all extremes of American climate and weather, are believed to have eliminated from their operating statistics the variables which would affect mileage costs compiled in any one state or region.

For instance, the average cost in the New York district where both traffic delays and winter storage expense are encountered was $6540 per mile, the highest figure in any of the 22 districts. In the Charlotte, N. C. district, where neither of these factors is present, the average cost was only $6270 per mile. In the mild climate of Charlotte district the total parking and storage cost for a

New Highway Section To Be Completed

The new section of the Redwood Highway from the foot of Singley Hill to Lolo, Humboldt county, will be completed and officially opened to travel this week, it was announced yesterday. The section being constructed between Lolo and Fernbridge is expected to be completed within two weeks.

With the elimination of the short detours at these points, the Redwood route north to Eureka is in excellent condition. Beyond Eugene conditions are good. The association reports traffic going through without delay on the section between Orick and the Klamath river, where construction is under way. This section will be thoroughly safe for travel as long as there are no heavy rains, according to the Touring Bureau. From Itasca to Grants Pass the route is fair throughout.

year's mileage of 175,000 was only $258.85 or an average of $60147 per mile against the grand average for this item for the entire country of $6069.

An interesting fact shown by the figures is that gasoline represents about 37 per cent of the operating cost, while tires and tire repairs constitute only between 2 and 3 per cent.

CHEVROLET CO. BEGINS TURKEY BEAN CONTEST

The Chevrolet Motor company has just announced its second Turkey Bean Contest for the sales organization throughout the country, according to Harry G. Golden, local dealer. Twenty-five thousand men will take part in the second annual sweepstakes and every man in the entire national sales organization is matched with a worthy opponent, the winner to eat turkey and the loser to eat beans, in a great series of banquets which will mark the close of Chevrolet's 1927 fall sales campaign.

Regional managers against regional managers, zone officials against zone officials, representatives against representatives, dealers and salesmen against dealers and salesmen will be matched in this unique sales classic from which a great deal of fun and intense rivalry has grown.

The record of last year's Turkey Bean Contest established a new mark in Chevrolet sales. Daily bulletins are being issued with the standings of the contestants and a remarkable array of valuable prizes is being awarded to the successful salesmen. R. G. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor company, in charge of sales, will award a beautiful silver radiator emblem to the Chevrolet salesmen throughout the country who make their quota of sales during October.

MINIMUM ROAD WIDTH RULES ESTABLISHED

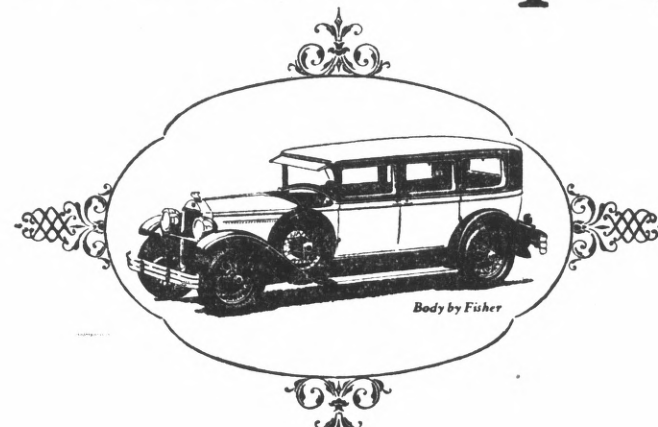

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 5.—In order to prepare for future travel which is expected to increase three-fold, B. B. Meek, director of the state department of public works yesterday announced that his department has issued a ruling that hereafter no trees will be planted along public highways unless the right of way has a minimum width of 80 feet.

According to figures made public by Meek, there are at present 685 miles of state highways planted with roadside trees, many of the trees growing on a 60-foot right of way. As it is believed that at no distant date it will be found necessary to widen these roads, the trees will be gradually removed and replanted, allowing an 80-foot right of way.

Meek announced yesterday that the annual cost of maintenance and care of highway trees represents an investment of two cents on every dollar appropriated for maintenance work.

Another new ruling which has been announced by Meek is that from now on all trees will henceforth be planted along the curb line, while power poles will be placed at the extreme limits of the right of way. This is to be done to avoid the trees interfering with power lines, which has often necessitated trimming and has resulted in the trees becoming "unsightly."

True Six-Cylinder Luxury Now Costs So Little to Enjoy

The sensational success of the Pontiac Six is based on the simple fact that it provides true six-cylinder luxury on a basis of true economy. Its first cost is low—$745 is the lowest price ever placed on a six with Body by Fisher. It can be purchased on attractive GMAC terms. It is inexpensive to operate and maintain. And finally, Pontiac Six commands a high resale value in every section of the country. All this brings true six-cylinder luxury within reach of the most modest purse—and that is why so many thousands are making Pontiac Six the car of their choice.

VICTORY HIWAY GIVEN SUPPORT BY COLORADANS

DENVER, Nov. 5.—Colorado has been asked to clasp hands across the Rockies and Sierras with San Francisco in making the Victory highway the most popular transcontinental motor road in the United States. Utah and Nevada, too give willing assent.

C. C. Cottrell, Western manager of the Victory Highway association in San Francisco, and consulting engineer of the California State Automobile Association, has just appealed to Denver businessmen for the needed improvement of the highway across the state.

The region around Steamboat Springs, and from Craig west to the state line, are stretches which Cottrell said were at present a deterrent to the harvest of "tourist dollars" from motorists.

Cottrell in a luncheon conference at the Albany Hotel said that Denver and other Colorado cities on the route are deprived of thousands of dollars because of the enforced diversion in motor travel from Kansas City to Salt Lake by way of Cheyenne due to bad roads.

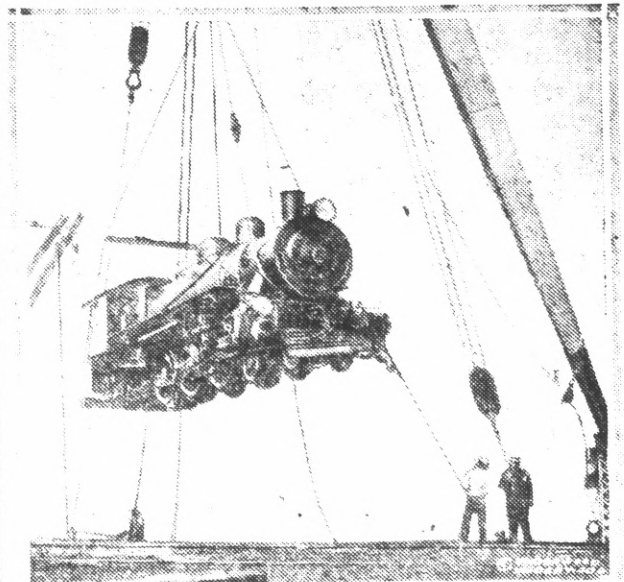

The Denver business men were told by Cottrell that no financial assistance is asked, simply that Colorado make possible in wet weather its mileage of the Victory highway in the northwestern part of the state.

They decided to formulate a committee of about twenty-five to petition the state highway department for these needed repairs when the Colorado commission meets next month.

Cottrell said that the Victory Highway Association, Californians, Inc., and the California State Automobile Association are preparing to spend $500,000 in advertising and publicity to draw additional thousands of motorists through Colorado on their way to northern and central California.

150,000 Pound Engine Is Easily Weighed Today

SIZE and shape are no longer barriers to accurate weighing. Large locomotives and equally cumbersome objects nowadays are weighed as easily and accurately as a pound of beef. As a matter of fact, Mother Earth has been weighed, but this was done on theoretical balances only.

Among some of the more intricate weighing problems which have been solved recently for various industries, according to the Toledo Scale Company, are methods of weighing the sand on sandpaper.

The liquid combinations in soft drinks, the moisture in wool and cotton, and the distortion in optical lenses, if any. Automatic scales, are also used now to count great quantities of nuts and bolts; to find the center of mass of pistons and to verify the thickness of the paper used in making United States money. Ninety percent of what we eat comes to us over the scales.

Cottrell asserted, and all that is asked of Colorado is the improvement of the highway.

S. C. Durkee, Nevada state highway engineer, corroborating Cottrell's statements said that not only were travel authorities of northern and central California focusing attention on cross-country travel by way of the Victory highway but that these same interests had actually helped to bring about the completion of the transcontinental route in Nevada.

K. S. Kerr, chief engineer of the Utah state road commission, said $775,000 had been expended or was being spent in projects contracted for in road operations from Salt Lake City to the Colorado line.

HUDSON-ESSEX SALES GAIN BY HUGE MARGIN

Buyers of Essex Super-Six cars in the first nine months of this year would fill and overflow the largest stadium in the world. More than 194,000 Super-Sixes were bought in this period, and in the closing months of the year there is no slackening or let-down in this splendid sales record, according to Ernie Douglas, Hudson-Exsex dealer for Richmond.

While the record being made nationally is great, he pointed out, Northern California is showing special enthusiasm for the new Essex. In his opinion, this is due not alone to the excellence of the car and the word-of-mouth advertising it has received from pleased owners who bought earlier in the year, but as well to the convincing evidences of unusual staminal which have been piled up recently.

First, an Essex Super-Six coach was driven from San Francisco through Pacheco Pass to Fresno and return, averaging better than 50.5 miles per hour for the entire distance and showing a mileage of more than 19 miles to the gallon. Then a week later, the same Essex Coach was driven by non-professionals to the top of Mt. Tamalpais, sealed in high gear, the first car ever to record such a record with officials.

These striking evidences of stamina and endurance under conditions as nearly as possible like those which might be encountered by an owner in ordinary driving revived once more the memory of the run of 13 hours and 46 minutes in mud and rain and darkness on a slippery one-mile dirt track at Tanforan when an Essex coach averaged more than 61 miles per hour for the entire run.

"These runs have not been made by professionals," said Douglas, "but have been demonstrated pure and simply the fact that the Essex under normal road conditions would stand 100 times as much as any owner could expect of an automobile in the popular price class. In my opinion, the public has been quick to appreciate these facts as well as to recognize the great beauty and tremendous value offered, and those reasons account for the phenomenal sales gain of Essex this year."

Ed. Hughes, driving a Whippet 4 roadster, made the trip from Denver to Cheyenne, in 150 minutes, and returned in 147 minutes, according to an announcement printed in the Denver Post recently. Hughes started from Denver at 12:30 a. m. by Western Union check, and arrive at Cheyenne at 2:20 a. m. He began his return trip at 2:45 a. m. and reached Denver at 4:42 a. m. The distance between the two cities is 100 miles making the round trip amount to 200 miles, reeled off in three hours and 47 minutes by Hughes route.

A Willys Knight 70 sedan was delivered by the Houttane McQuone company, to O. L. Zaver of 634 Twenty-fifth street last week. They also delivered the cream colored Whippet 4 sedan which has been on display here, and the big six Willys Knight four-door.

TRICKLE CHARGER NOT WET

The local branch of the Western Auto Supply company, has received a trickle charger for radio sets. The charger is operated by current from the light socket, and requires little attention. The new feature is the dry rectifier which utilizes a new metal, "kuprox" recently developed. This metal which is made from pure copper, has the property of allowing a current to flow but in one direction through it. This property is utilized in the new charger, since it receives the current from the transformer unit and converts into direct current. The "Kuprox" unit may be bought separately and used with a charger that uses a wet rectifier.

Important extracts from the California State Motor Vehicle law treating the provisions covering headlights are those mentioned in the following paragraphs. Incidentally, the Richmond Police department will start a campaign of headlight testing about November 7; the extracts:

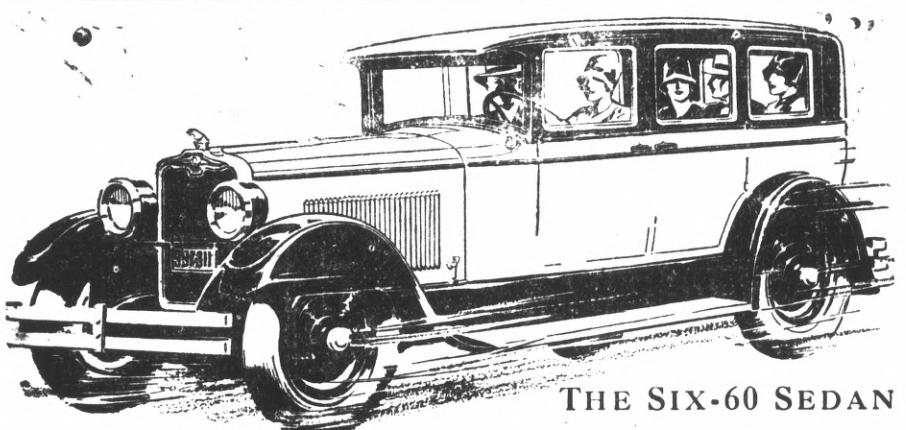

All motor vehicles must be equipped with two headlights with equal candle power bulbs (21 c. p.) and with the same kind of light directing devices in each lamp, which must conform to the requirements of the Motor Vehicle Department, and there must be a tail light showing red from the rear.

Yearly Report Shows Record Tide In State Auto Touring

Reflecting the enormous volume of motor touring in California during the past season, the annual report of the Touring Bureau of the California State Automobile Association shows not only the record tide of travel within the state but the tremendous influx of visiting motorists from neighboring states and from the Middle West and East due to improved inter-state and transcontinental routes.

More than 50,000 motor tourists were welcomed to the state by the Association Touring Bureau during the past year and provided with the courtesy of complete touring service, according to the report. This figure is based on the 17,144 out-of-state cars for which visitors permits were provided by Touring Bureau offices, figuring an average of at least three persons to a car. These motorists were furnished without charge maps, road date, hotel and resort information, and other information by the association. The figure of 50,000 is but an indication of the tourist tide as it accounts for only those motorists entering the Northern and Central California gateways who remain in the state more than ten days.

In experiencing its busiest year in the association's 20 years of service to motorists, the Touring Bureau distributed 567,000 road maps, served 401,984 members and visitors over the counters of its officers in 27 cities, answered 226,551 telephone inquiries to its district offices, furnished 42,628 routing to neighboring states and 11,940 transcontinental routings.

DELAY OF BRAKE RELINING INCREASES EXPENSE

Brake relining on your car, when needed, should not be neglected; otherwise the rivets become exposed and cut grooves in the brake drums, causing unnecessary expense. The California State Automobile Association points out that lining which has been worn to one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness at any point should be replaced.

Preference for ESSEX almost 2 to 1

In outselling any other "Six" at or near the price, almost two to one, the signal thing is not merely the overwhelming preference for the Essex Super-Six, but the source from which it comes.

A great proportion of buyers are owners, former and present, of big and costly cars. They turn to Essex because they find:

- The smoothness and performance of their costlier cars.
- Comfort and riding ease not excelled in any car.
- The roominess and relaxation of their larger cars.
- Traffic nimbleness and handling ease unmatched in larger cars.
- Economy of operation and maintenance exclusive to Essex.

Engineered to long life, lasting reliability and lowest operation and maintenance costs, it represents the greatest value in all Essex achievement.

Dolores Costello in "OLD SAN FRANCISCO" is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

The story which is covered by Bucknell, San Francisco boss. Vasquez won't sell. Bucknell and lawyer, Brandon, plan to void Vasquez land grant. Brandon's nephew, Terry, loves Dolores. Vasquez's beautiful granddaughter, and Vasquez of plot. Vasquez spurs Vasquez and informs Terry that Dolores must marry young Spauld.

Terry, heartbroken, goes on spree. Dolores saves Terry in Frisco's Barbary Coast and is disillusioned. Bucknell meets Dolores and is intrigued. He lures her to Frisco under guise of aiding. Terry saves Dolores and beats Bucknell. Terry is forgiven and takes Dolores home after disclosing that Bucknell is the one trying to evict them.

The sagging lines in Vasquez's face became set by the sheer strength and power of his determination. His narrow, drooping shoulders lifted and blurred eyes took on a fierce glint.

"They cannot compel me to leave the home of my fathers. What has happened to the laws created for man's protection?" Vasquez muttered to himself, although the frightened servant cowering in the corner nodded silent agreement to the master he had known since childhood. With lengthened, tottering stride Vasquez strode to the fireplace and lifted his great sword from its niche above the mantle. His thin, colorless lips kissed the beloved inscription on the hilt and the white head bowed as if in prayer.

"A Vasquez Avenges a Vasquez!" he said, with a spurt of his youthful vigor, and strode out through the patio, grimly determined to defend his rights.

In the meantime Don Luis approached the surveying crew as they were driving a stake into the hallowed ground of the Vasquez burial plot.

"Stop!" he commanded, holding up a protesting hand as he drew near.

The men looked at him, then at each other as if to say, "Well, what have we here?" They had never come across such a romantic figure in real life.

"As the friend and protector of the noble House of Vasquez," said Don Luis to one of the crew, "I demand that you retreat at once."

Drawing himself up with assumed dignity, he scowled menacingly.

"The hard-bitten surveyor who had been sent along with the surveying crew to drive stakes shifted his quid from one cheek to the other, sized up Don Luis from head to foot and finally spoke through a broad grin.

"Aw, beat it—ye young garlic breath!"

Forgetting that he had been instructed to drive the stakes, the big Irishman stepped forward to meet the attack with a brawny arm and a hard looking fist.

Don Luis retreated with a few hurried steps, but his high heels caught in the surveyor's chain between the stakes and he fell backward. It was the most ungraceful exit he had ever made. Money, pleasure and dignity were the three most desirable things in Don Luis's code of living and he suffered considerably when the "coarse laborer," as he mentally termed them, broke into spontaneous laughter. Quickly scrambling to his feet he assumed an injured air and hoped that Dolores and Terry had not seen the "accident."

"They had, but were too intent upon the issue at hand to laugh or pause and offer sympathy. The one thing they realized was that Don Luis had not been successful in his effort with the men."

"May I ask if you have legal authority to run lines through this property?" asked Terry of the surveyors.

All of the men realized that they were dealing with a different character from Don Luis, and the young spokesman did not hesitate to answer truthfully. Besides, he had caught a glimpse of Dolores standing by Terry's side and was willing to prolong the interview if it meant a longer chance to see her. He did not know girls could be so gorgeous.

"Have you a written permit?" questioned Terry.

"Yes, but it's only temporary."

He felt in several pockets before he found it, then continued, "I'm told it will be made permanent this afternoon."

Terry accepted the paper and looked it over, a worried frown appearing as he read.

Dolores looked over his shoulder and after a moment asked softly, "What does it mean?"

"It is next to the last step necessary to allow the work of destruction to go ahead."

Terry spoke in a low voice, but the men could hear. In fact, none of them could look away from Dolores. Her beauty was like a miracle, and against the background of the old rancho she seemed a part of another world. The men also saw that her cheeks quivered and her eyes filled with tears when the young man explained the permit.

Turkey News!

The first consignment of 1200 turkeys arrived yesterday. This early shipment had its special purpose—to demonstrate in advance what we were to expect from our shipper this season. If you have seen them in our window you have of course formed your own conclusions. If not, allow us to mention that they are the best we ever handled and that is saying a great deal.

There will be more turkeys than ever consumed this year as conditions warrant it and we are proud to accept orders from the public with such a degree of satisfaction as this trial shipment has instilled in us; that we can please you in every respect.

Make that grand prize for your Whist Party a Turkey. We issue orders redeemable at any time. Special concessions to church, lodge, and private banquets. Place your orders NOW, and be assured of receiving a wonderful turkey "fit for a king."
